

SPIKED?

Spiking is a CRIME

Adding alcohol or drugs to somebody's drink without their knowledge is illegal. Whether it's a prank or with more sinister intent, you could face a 10-year prison sentence.

The Students' Union operates a zero tolerance policy on the possession of any categorised, banned or restricted substance within our events and commercial premises. We work closely with the University and the Police to prevent and reduce the impact of drugs on campus and part of this partnership involves the sharing of CCTV footage of incidents and we will always push for prosecution.
